A Message From Our President

The Coral Springs Regional Chamber and the Coconut Creek Chamber Council started a new campaign. The goal is to let businesses know when Chamber members are patronizing their businesses. We created two different business cards that read "I'M HERE!" - I patronized your business today because you are a member of the Coral Springs Regional Chamber of Commerce/ or Coconut Creek Chamber Council. Please share this card with your manager. If you have a chance to stop by the Chamber office or when you are at any of our events, take some cards and present them at member businesses. Please post your photos with the cards on our social media so we can get the word out- Always Buy Chamber.

The Chamber has had a wonderful opportunity to hire an intern this summer; her name is Marian Lobaton and she is an incoming senior at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School. The internship, which requires 150 paid hours, fulfills a requirement for DECA students to receive their certification from the National Academy of Finance. I can tell you that my experiences of having interns has been extremely rewarding on many levels. Our interns have provided much needed assistance on special projects and they have so much to teach us! In addition, it is extremely fulfilling personally knowing that you are making an impact on a student (our last intern Robby stops by to say hi whenever he comes home from college. The Chamber will be working on assisting the high schools to find businesses for their internships next summer and I can tell you this a great opportunity.

Last month Coconut Creek Vice Mayor Sandy Welch invited me to participate in the 2018 Broward Leaders Roundtable on Climate and Resilience hosted by Broward County Mayor Beam Furr and Senator Nan Rich, Broward County Commissioner. There were 32 municipal representatives from 21 different cities, including 14 elected officials. The discussion was very productive and a major step in moving our county and region forward to a resilient future. Broward faces a growing flood risk associated with rising seas and groundwater levels, storm surge, and more intense rainfall events. The important point that I want to convey to you is that this is not just a coastal issue, as evidenced by the flooding at Sawgrass Mills. The gravity-based storm water management system that we rely on for flood protection leaves those of us in the Western portion of the County most vulnerable; as the eastern portion of the county will have to drain first. The next meeting will be in October and I will keep you updated.

Have a safe and wonderful Independence Day and enjoy your summer!

To your continued success,
Cindy

Broward Health is set to expand its services to the community. Renovations will be completed in August 2018 on a $64 million expansion project that will offer four floors of healthcare services to provide greater access to quality, patient-centered care for western Broward County's growing population. The 110,000-square-foot expansion includes labor and delivery, as well as C-section rooms for expectant mothers on the tower's first floor, 28 private mother/baby post-partum rooms and a new 10-bed NICU on the second floor, 28 private medical/surgical beds on the third floor and shell space for future clinical services on the fourth floor. The tower will increase Broward Health Coral Springs' bed capacity from 200 to 250.

As Broward County's population continues to grow, we are committed to meeting the community's needs by providing greater access to care and an enhanced patient experience with this expansion. Our team is committed to extending personalized compassionate care to patients and their families. We proudly offer a vast array of services designed to meet the needs of the community.
