

CLASSIFIED PLAYERS LIST

2018-2019

Player Classification 2018-2019

Players in the Midwest Coin Concepts Dart Leagues have been classified according to skill level. This classification is meant to insure that players are competing with others of similar skills. The classified players list will be available on the website & at start up meetings.

- 1) Teams with one or more players listed as masters players must play in the highest skill level available on that night of play for that game in that area. (The league office may designate, or a league area may vote, to establish certain nights and/or games as “no master list player” nights of play.)

- 2) Teams with one or more players listed as advanced players will not be allowed to play lower than the second highest skill level available on that night of play for that game in that area. Teams with two or more advanced players may be placed in the highest level of play by the league office. Decisions of the league office are final.

- 3) Players listed as master players may not sub on any team other than those in the highest skill level available. Players listed as advanced players may not sub on any team lower than the second highest skill level available.

- 4) The penalty for non-compliance of these rules will be a loss of all games played by the offending player. (you will be given one warning, after that it will be a loss of all games)

- 5) The classification of players on this list is designed for league play only. It does not directly apply to any tournament play. (tournament play or known ability may put you on the list)
