

Reflections

"The secret is not running behind the butterflies, it is taking care of the garden so that they come to you."
Ruben Alves

an art show in Brooten

CONCEPT

A juried art show presenting artists from nearby communities as well as other states. Artists are identified by their work, because there is a part of them within it. It becomes a reflection of who they are, potentially exposing a part of their soul.

THE ART SHOW

The goal of this show is to enhance artistic expression as part of the annual Brooten Bonanza Valley Days celebration. We desire to integrate the cultural aspect of the arts with the other elements and activities of the celebration.

The Red Hen House will host the event and will also provide a beautiful catalog of all participating artists and their artwork, advertisement through social media, flyers and local media. A reception will also be held giving our guests an opportunity to meet and speak with the artists.

OUR JUROR

Tracy Anderson has lived her passion for art throughout her life. Her exquisite talent for oil painting emerged professionally in the past decade propelling her to the top of the art scene with numerous prestigious awards.

Tracy has studied under accomplished artists and has been a teacher in many arenas. She enjoys passing on her love of art through workshops, mentoring art students and teaches in her home studio. She absorbs inspiration from everything around her and can capture a particular moment with intensity and contrast that come to life in the representational style and unforgettable quality,

Tracy is based in Alexandria, MN.

JURORS CHOICE AWARD

Juror's Choice Award will be presented during the opening night Artist Reception.

A People's Choice vote will be taken during show hours and announced at the end of the Show.
